Cyber Discovery and Incident Response

Practice Focus

HaystackID's Global Cyber Discovery and Incident Response Services provides organizations with end-to-end reactive capabilities to rapidly identify sensitive data (PII/PHI) during a security incident so that organizations can understand and respond to regulatory risk arising from personal data compromise. Our cutting-edge process is driven by a dedicated division of cyber, forensics, data science, and legal experts that work together to create successful outcomes for corporations, breach coaches, and cyber insurance providers. We also provide privacy-based cyber security and information governance services, with a special focus on data hygiene services that can help organizations mitigate cyber risk, while also preparing them for favorable outcomes when seeking or renewing cyber insurance.

Problems Addressed

- The need to rapidly and accurately respond to data breaches.
- The need to detect and identify sensitive data.
- The need to remediate data and restore systems impacted by cyber breaches.
- The need to proactively protect against cyber breaches.

Primary Offerings

- Data Breach Incident Response Services
- Sensitive Data Identification Services
- Data Mining Services
- Data Hygiene Services

"We help organizations to remediate cyber threats and identify sensitive data during a security incident so they can understand and respond to regulatory risk arising from personal, customer, and business data compromise."
